

Palinuro (about 100 Km from Salerno) is very appreciated by tourists thanks to its wonderful sea, which

The town is linked to Salerno by hydrofoils; the nearest main road is 10 Km to the north, connecting Salerno

Palinuro was the name of the helmsman of Aeneas who, according to tradition, fell in the sea, and when

The most important caves are: Grotta Azzurra which is called Azzurra because sunlight creates on the Grotta del Sangue has water with red "blood" reflexes on it. Grotta Calafetente, the name comes from the

Grotta dei Monaci is called in this way (of friars) because there are some stalagmites having the shape